

As you've heard, Clear Channel fired 1,850 people this week, a 9% staff reduction - and the most ever fired in one day by a radio company in history. Many of those losing their jobs came from sales departments, although most departments were affected. The pervasive rumor heard as the industry learned of the cutbacks was that there will be another purge of CC employees coming, this time affecting programming more severely than this week's cuts did. After the firings were announced, CC President/CEO Mark Mays and CFO Randall Mays volunteered to scale back their 2009 salaries to $500k, but both are still eligible for millions in bonuses. Here are some of the names of people let go from around the neighborhood. Smooth Jazz WNUA/Chicago PD/ Midday talent Rick O'Dell is out after 20 years. The FCC denied David Edward Smith's petition for reconsideration of the denial of his challenge to the license renewals of Emmis Sports WFNI-AM and AC WYXB/Indianapolis, Country WLHK/Shelbyville-Indianapolis and Classic Rock WWVR/Country WTHI/Terre Haute. Smith alleged in 2004 that Emmis aired indecent programming, including WKQX/Chicago morning man Mancow Muller. The FCC kindly pointed out to Mr. Smith that Emmis had entered a consent decree regarding the indecency and that the FCC does not regulate the non-broadcast activities of station employees.

Former FCC Chairman Dick Wiley expects the new FCC, under direction from expected chair Julius Genachowski, to be tough on Media mergers and acquisitions. Wiley said, "I'm hoping that the commission won't embark on new regulatory endeavors." Wiley says Genachowski's likely agenda will focus on broadband, technology innovation, Net neutrality and also include "a desire to not have a lot more consolidation" in media. Wiley thinks Genachowski is "exactly was the FCC needs right now."

As announced this morning on The Big 89, Chicago's WLS-AM, program director Bob Shomper offered a weekly radio program to embattled Illinois Gov. Rod Blagojevich, as long as he resigns. Shomper made the offer this morning, during the Don & Roma Show on WLS-AM. His public plea to the governor is to spare the state the embarrassment and expense of forcibly removing Blagojevich from office. The weekly radio show would air Sundays from 12n to 2p. "A talk show hosted by Governor Blagojevich would be widely popular," said Shomper. "In spite of his low approval ratings, people want to hear what he has to say." Starting Monday, Blagojevich and the Illinois Senate begin an impeachment trial that should end in his removal from office. The WLS-AM offer is an up-front appeal to Blagojevich to do what the people of Illinois prefer; resign. His current approval rating is below 10%.

Radio Fargo-Moorhead Talk KFGO-AM host Ed Schultz will now split time in Washington, DC as the talker plans to segue to our Nation's capitol. Schultz says his show will not change with the move to studios at liberal think tank Center for American Progress. Schultz, syndicated by Dial Global, added, "There is a real possibility of a television opportunity on the horizon, but that's really all I can say about it right now."

A middle school in Green Bay played the Obama inauguration to students over the loud speakers, but the audio was from Rush Limbaugh's show. Edison Middle School teacher Amanda Griggs complained to Midwest Communications Talk WTAQ-AM/Green Bay PD Jerry Bader and Rush read her e-mail on the air Wednesday. Limbaugh called Griggs an "anal liberal" adding he would "go up there, I'll do a couple lectures on civics, give some students a ride in EIB 1 and explain economics to them."

Next month, on Feb 11th and 25th, The Conclave will launch an essential two-part webinar series aimed at assisting those who have either lost a job in the industry, or who would like to learn how to explore new opportunities inside and outside of radio. The series will be coordinated by Karol Baumeister, Career Services Representative Radio Broadcasting at Brown College and a Conclave Board of Directors member. Details on these invaluable webinars are forthcoming. Stay tuned!

Former CC Sports KFAN-AM/Minneapolis "PA and Dubay" cohost Jeff Dubay is entering a one-year diversion program that will dismiss his cocaine charges and result in no jail time once the program Is completed. Dubay was fired from KFAN in October after being arrested in Maplewood, MN on the drug charges.

Pandora, a customized Music streamer, is adding a 15 second advertisement to its streams. The company places ads between songs in users' personalized streams. Users can pay $36 a year to eliminate the ads. Pandora has tried this before, but due to backlash it failed. CEO Tim Westergren says, "It's going to be a fraction of what you hear on broadcast radio. We're trying different things out right now...It's certainly going to be part of our future."

Google's VP Content Partnership David Eun says the music industry should let "innovation thrive" after Warner ordered Google-owned Youtube to remove clips featuring music by its artists. Eun reacted to the criticism, saying, "We don't make money unless our partners make money, so the idea that we would screw a partner on whom we depend is not rational or logical. We're not screwing the labels, and if anything, we need to partner more closely with them." When asked about respecting and protecting copyright for the music industry, Eun said that Youtube has put its various measures in place, including its Content ID technology to help copyright-holders identify infringing videos, and then decide whether to block them outright, to track what happens to that video to learn, or to allow it to go up and make money from it.

Google Inc. will close a business that sells ad space in Newspapers. Google will continue to focus on radio. The newspaper program attracted more than 800 US newspapers since 2006 and will stop selling ads on Feb. 28th. The ad sales will continue until March 31st for customers who already had campaigns booked. Google, which gets most of its sales from Internet-search advertising, has sought to expand beyond the Web by selling print, radio and television ads. The recession has cut into spending, forcing the company to slow expansion. Google announced last week that it cut 100 jobs and will scale back hiring.

The unveiling will contain three more Motown specials for Summer 2009 in association with ABC. McVay Media has four other long form daypart programs to be announced soon.

Commentary: Nearly 2,000 of our friends and co-workers were fired by Clear Channel this week, marking another sad chapter in our industry annals. Then, a day later, comes the announcement that the heads of Clear Channel - the Mays family - will be receiving a gargantuan payday (by radio standards) that includes millions of dollars in salary and benefits over the next two years. It's easy to get pissed, especially when we realize that other companies will follow CC's lead allowing even more dedicated professionals to feel the ax for no reason other than they receive a paycheck from the companies in question. In spite of the immense anger and sadness we feel, we must remember that this is called capitalism. People are hired. People are fired. There's nothing inherently wrong with trimming rosters to enhance profitability. It's what goes on in a democracy characterized by freedom on one hand and sensible law on the other. But that fact begs a larger question. At what point do these lessees of our public airwaves do harm to their promise make that, obligation - of serving in the public interest by removing employees from their roster? At what point does the reality of exchanging a local morning team for a voice whose body will never step inside the station broadcasting that voice, much less inside their market, begin to abridge that licensees requirement that a community be properly served? Serving the public interest has not been suitably defined in the past, and as a result licensees have been defining it according to their individual perceptions. In a deregulated world, that's exactly what has happened...and that is what's wrong with hundreds of local voices being stilled by a licensee's profit margin protection plan (AKA "firing the help"). There may be ultimate irony in the fact the bold Clear Channel move was made on the very day a new US government was installed that may indeed care deeply about federal licensees reneging on an inherent promise made in order to secure those licenses. The time for accountability and correction may be upon us. At least - in the jargon of our newly elected administration that is the change many of us hope for. - TK
